Welcome to Tianjin

As one of the four municipalities directly under the Central Government, Tianjin boasts as the largest economic and trade center in North China. With the attractive scenery and abundant natural resources and cultures, Tianjin is also characterized with her local folk custom . The historical interests of modern China gives the city rich tourism resources. The city is also renowned for the long-history and dynamics as the modern port city. Welcome to Tianjin.

Invitation from the Conference

Dredging is the fundamental activity for industrialization, urbanization, modernization and ecological civilization construction. Since the new century, dredging has been playing an important role in the economic development, social progress, people's living standard improvement. Nowadays, in the face of the structural adjustment of global economy and the impact of technical revolution, the dredging industry in both China and the rest of the world needs to push forward the self-transformation and all-round innovation focusing on the significant issues like the change of market demand, sustainable development and the construction of new ecological system and so on. This is the common interest and common objective of the dredging industry.

Therefore, we sincerely invite the members from World Organization of Dredging Associations and companies from CHIDA to participate this conference; sincerely invite the dredging experts, scholars and technicians to submit their papers, sincerely invite the dredging-related companies to give the exhibition on their product and technologies.

Date and Venue

The Fifth International Dredging Technology Development Conference of China will be held at of Geneva Hotel, Tianjin China. The conference will last for 4 days from September 25, 2017 (Monday) to September 28, 2017 (Thursday).

The Theme of Conference

The theme of Conference is “Dredging•Ecology • Sustainable”

Paper Submission

The Theme and Main Content of the Papers

The conference will call for papers on the conference theme of Ecology, Dredging and Sustainability and following related special topics. The Preparatory Committee and the Technical Paper Appraisal Committee will review the submitted papers to select excellent papers and determine the form for releasing on the conference or in written forms.

1. In front of the common mission of preserving the ecological environment, the improvement and innovation must be undertaken by the dredging industry.

2. How does the big data technology and smart technology drive the dredging industry to improve efficiency, save energy and reduce emission?

3. The development tendency of the dredging industry.

4. The prospect and solution for barriers of new energy applying on the dredging equipment.

5. More environmental friendly and more efficient new dredging technology.

6. The development direction of dredging equipment and its solution

7. Other contents concerning the conference theme.

II Arrangement for Young Talent Forum

In order to encourage the younger dredging talents focusing on the development of dredging and related fields, promote learning exchange and grow into key members of dredging industry, the conference will specially hold Young Talent Forum to encourage younger technical talents under 35 years old from china and other countries to publish papers and participate in the discussion.

Annex 1:

Requirement on the contents and format of the paper

1. Title

The title should be the logical combination of the appropriate and concise words that can reflect the certain contents of the paper. Words that are ambiguous or too general should be avoided. (The title usually should be no more than 20 words, subheading may be used if necessary. Verb-object construction should be avoided as much as possible. As for the nominal phrase, the expression such as The Study on..., or Based on..... should be avoided.)

2. Author

The author should provide the following information along with the paper

- (1). the name of department, school, university, province, city, zip code and contact information.
- (2). Company name, province, city, zip code and contact information.

3. Abstract

The abstract should be self-evident or self-explanatory, that means, necessary information can be obtained even the reader did not read the whole paper. Scientific expressions and specific data should be used instead of literary modifiers. The following items should be avoided: figures, signs, reference, complicated equation or complex chemical formula, symbols or terms that are not well-known. Self-evaluation, such as this research shows the bright future of application for the……, or …… has not been reported, should be avoided. If the abstract is the accurate, specific and complete generalization of the innovation of the paper will directly determine whether the paper will be used, read or referred. The length of the abstract should be between 200–300 words. The abstract shall be written in the third person. The subject such as this paper, the article, the author, this study should not be used as the subject.

4. Keywords

The paper keywords are words or phrases that can reflect the theme and concept of the paper, which are convenient for bibliographical index and retrieval. Every paper shall have 3 to 8 keywords, which should be separated by full-width semicolon. The Chinese keywords shall not be written with English or western language symbols as far as possible. Note: at least 2 keywords shall be selected from EI controlled vocabulary, which can be searched in college digital libraries.

5. Introduction

As the beginning of the paper, the introduction mainly answers the question of “why study”. It concisely introduces the background of the thesis, research history and present situations of related fields, and the intention and analysis basis of the paper, including the goal of the paper, study scope and theory and selection of technical scheme. The introduction shall be written concisely, and it is not equivalent to the abstract or turns into the explanatory notes for the abstract. It shall not detail the basic theory, experiment method and deduction of basic equation already known by the industry or stated in the textbook. If any technical terminology or abbreviations adopted in the paper text, it should be defined in the introduction. Generally, the introduction shall not exceed 800 words and not be classified in numbering of chapter.

6. Length of text

The text of paper shall not exceed 20 pages in total (counting blank space and icon space).
